BELLE GLADE — Approximately 50 concerned citizens turned out Tuesday evening to "Meet the Candidates" in a speaker's forum sponsored by the Glades Citizens in Action, Inc., at the Lake Shore Civic Center.

Seven of the eight candidates bidding for seats on the Belle Glade City Commission attended the forum. Candidates from the north, east and west boroughs were given from five to ten minutes to speak to the audience.

Following the introduction of candidates, Calvin Darville, presented questions from the audience to the candidates.

North Borough candidate, Clyde "Racy" Parrish, told the audience, "everyone should take advantage of the right to vote."

The owner of a local wrecker pick-up service, Parrish said one of his main concerns was the efficient operation of the city.

Parrish and the other candidates present also spoke of the need to improve the city garbage pick-up service. Incumbent Commissioner Claude Tindall of the North Borough said all he could offer to the citizens of the community was his record.

"I stand on my 36 years in law enforcement, 11 of those years spent in the Glades," said Tindall. Presently serving his second two year term, Tindall said he has seen much improvement in the city, since he came to Belle Glade.

East Borough candidate, George Goforth, a native of Belle Glade said he realizes that there is a job big to be undertaken on the commission.

"There needs to be more cooperation among the commissioners," he said. "No one man can do the job along," he added.

Goforth said he has seen many changes in the city, but felt some of the changes were not for the betterment of the community.

Incumbent Commissioner, Dorothy Walker, running for second two year term, said two years ago her main concern was housing.

"The commission has worked in that area and there are a number of plans on the drawing board," said Walker.

She said, she has talked with County Commissioner Bill Bailey and has been given a verbal agreement for low-income housing on S.R. 715.

Ms. Walker said she has tried to work for the betterment of the community.

Student hit by truck Friday

CANAL POINT — Elizabeth Sans, of Canal Point, was struck Friday, Aug. 28, by a 1977 Peterbilt truck, driven by Michael Rudd Tomlinson, of Jacksonville.

Sans, a fourth grade student, was struck as she was crossing Star Route 510 and U.S. Highway 441 in Canal Point, in front of a Palm Beach County School bus driven by Mrs. Louise J. Smith.

In a report filed with the West Area Transportation office, Mrs. Smith said she had made an earlier stop and noticed the truck had stopped for that drop off of students.

As she approached her stop and went through all the procedures, the report said Mrs. Smith noticed a volkswagen was between the bus and the truck. The truck went around the car and the bus and struck Sans, as she was approximately five to six feet from the bus.

Sans was taken to Everglades Memorial Hospital where she was treated for injuries. She was released Monday from the hospital.

No charges have been filed in the accident and Highway Patrolman Johnny Mack Brown, is continuing the investigation.

Daniel Bythwood qualifies for race

BELLE GLADE — With time running out Wednesday, Aug. 26, the last day would-be candidates could file to run for the three borough seats up for grabs on the Belle Glade City Commission, Daniel Bythwood filed to run in the West Borough at 3:30 p.m.

Bythwood, of 1217 S.W. Ave. B., qualified for the commission seat currently held by Randy Davidson.

Davidson did not seek re-election. Bythwood joins former West Borough Commissioner and Mayor William Grear and Robert L. Jones, Title XX coordinator with the Florida Farmworkers Council in a bid for the post.

Bythwood is a 27 year resident of the city and has been employed by the Palm Beach County School system since 1953. He is presently a Human Relation Specialist with the school system.

He has been employed with the City of Belle Glade as a police officer. From 1963 through 1968 he worked under former monitor the needs of the West Borough closely because he will represent the West Borough on the Commission. Bythwood said among his platform goals are more police protection, improved housing, and more recreational activities. He also said he would like to see businesses attracted to the area that will provide jobs for the citizens. Mrs. Billy Jean Jenkins is serving as Bythwood's campaign treasurer and Mrs. Juanita Malone as his campaign manager. Bythwood and his wife, Elouise, are the parents of seven children. The election will be held Tuesday, Sept. 15 at the Fire Station and the runoff if necessary will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22.

ment of the city of Belle Glade as a whole during the past two years.

Political newcomer, Daniel Bythwood, said he could not continue to sit and see so many things needed and not do something about it. "If elected I will speak for the citizens of Belle Glade," said Bythwood.

"Progress has been made, but more can be made," Bythwood said.

Former commissioner, William Grear, said one of his top priorities is the raw water intake project.

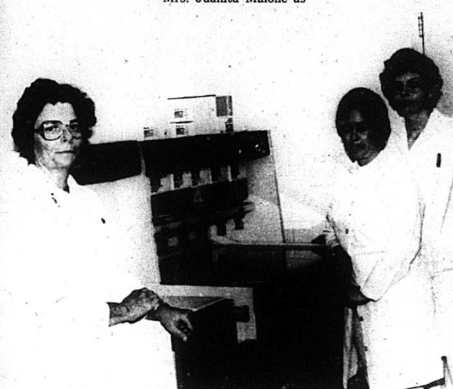

"If the raw water intake lines are not extended and the lake level continues to drop, the citizens of Belle Glade will be faced with a serious water shortage problem," said Grear.

Grear said since he was elected to the Commission in 1969, many accomplishments have been made. He cited the development of four sugar sub-divisions and recreation activities for the community youth.

West Borough candidate Robert Jones said the time is now for a "total commissioner". Jones said he has done a number of studies on attracting new industries to the city.

He said he also feels the community should be involved in the decision making on housing and recreational activities for the city. One of the major concerns of the citizens attending the meeting was the annexation of the Okeechobee Center into the city of Belle Glade.

Several of the candidates indicated they would be favor of bring the housing project into the city, but several candidates said they would not be in favor of annexation because it would not provide any added revenue to the city.

NEW CHEMISTRY ANALYZER

Everglades Memorial gets new analyzer

PAHOKEE - The Clinical Laboratory department at Everglades Memorial Hospital has received its new Chemistry Analyzer, the Dupont ACA II.

Dale Milita, laboratory supervisor, said the new analyzer will enable the clinic laboratory to perform new procedures, on a seven day a week, 24 hour a day basis.

"This instrument will allow physicians to treat their patients with a faster turn-around time from clinical lab tests," said Milita.

He added, "many tests that were sent to outside reference labs will now be performed in-house".

This new equipment is valued at $94,000.00.

Three employees, Judy Milita, Roberta Salvatore and Gloria Wyatt, of the clinical laboratory staff were sent to Wilmington, Delaware, to the Dupont factory and training school for one week of training in operation of the instrument.

Milita said, the hospital anticipates that this instrument will allow the evening shift, to not be required to have another medical technologist, due to the automation of the instrument, allowing the one medical technologist now on duty to perform other tests, freeing her from the chemistry procedures, the Dupont ACA will perform.

Another technologist is scheduled for school later next year, for trouble shooting and service training, said Milita.

Monroe named area superintendent

BELLE GLADE --Dr. John Monroe, who started his career 28 years ago in the Glades with the Palm Beach County School system, was appointed the new West Area Superintendent of Education, Wednesday night by the PBC School Board.

Dr. Monroe replaces, Jack Redding, who asked to be placed back as principal of Pahokee High School.

Monroe, who has been principal of John I. Leonard High School of West Palm Beach since 1978, began his teaching career as a music teacher at Belle Glade High School in 1953.

He worked at Belle Glade High School until 1958 before transferring to Forest High School, where he taught music until 1966.

From 1966 to 1973, Monroe was the music specialist in the Central County Office and from 1973 until 1978 he was the North Central area director of instructional services.

Monroe will assume his duties today, Sept. 3. School Supt. Thomas Mills, chose Monroe from a list of four candidates who applied for the position.

Mills said he thinks Monroe can make a contribution in the Glades area.

Monroe did both his undergraduate and graduate work at the University of Miami.

Mrs. Doris Lane, former principal of Pahokee High School also has been appointed as director of secondary education. She replaces Kenneth Lovelless, who is now a school superintendent in Texas.

LOAN APPROVED FOR BELLE GLADE HEALTH CARE FACILITY

Glades commissioner Bill Bailey reported to county commission Aug. 25 that the Farmers Home Administration has approved a $1 million loan to the county at five percent interest, to assist in the construction of a permanent health care facility in Belle Glade.

The total center will cost $2.4 million with an out right allocation from the state for $400,000 and $1 million in county funds. The new center will replace run down trailer facilities that are now serving 35,000 Glades residents. Ground-breaking is expected by the end of this year, with completion targeted for December of 1982.

The location for the new building is just east of the county courthouse annex building in Belle Glade.

Bythwood—

Continued from 1 He said he plans to work for the betterment of the entire City of Belle Glade but plans to first time he has entered the arena of politics.

monitor the needs of the West Borough closely because he will represent the West Borough on the Commission.

Bythwood said among his platform goals are more police protection, improved housing, and more recreational activities. He also said he would like to see businesses attracted to the area that will provide jobs for the citizens.

Mrs. Billy Jean Jenkins is serving as Bythwood's campaign treasurer and Mrs. Juanita Malone as his campaign manager.

Bythwood and his wife, Elouise, are the parents of seven children.

The election will be held Tuesday, Sept. 15 at the Fire Station and the runoff if necessary will be held Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Candidates—

ment of the city of Belle Glade as a whole during the past two years.

Political newcomer, Daniel Bythwood, said he could not continue to sit and see so many things needed and not do something about it.

"If elected I will speak for the citizens of Belle Glade," said Bythwood.

"Progress has been made, but more can be made," Bythwood said.

Former commissioner, William Grear, said one of his top priorities is the raw water intake project.

"If the raw water intake lines are not extended and the lake level continues to drop, the citizens of Belle Glade will be faced with a serious water shortage problem," said Grear.

Grear said since he was elected to the Commission in 1969, many accomplishments have been made. He cited the development of four sugar sub-divisions and recreation activities for the community youth.

West Borough candidate Robert Jones said the time is now for a "total commissioner".

Jones said he has done a number of studies on attracting new industries to the city.

He said he also feels the community should be involved in the decision making on housing and recreational activities for the city.

One of the major concerns of the citizens attending the meeting was the annexation of the Okeechobee Center into the city of Belle Glade.

Several of the candidates indicated they would be favor of bringing the housing project into the city, but several candidates said they would not be in favor of annexation because it would not provide any added revenue to the city.

Everglades Memorial gets new analyzer

PAHOKEE—The Clinical Laboratory department at Everglades Memorial Hospital has received its new Chemistry Analyzer, the Dupont ACA II.

Dale Milita, laboratory supervisor, said the new analyzer will enable the clinic laboratory to perform new procedures, on a seven day a week, 24 hour a day basis.

"This instrument will allow physicians to treat their patients with a faster turn-around time from clinical lab tests," said Milita.

He added, "many tests that were sent to outside reference labs will now be performed in-house".

This new equipment is valued at $94,000.00. Three employees, Judy Milita, Roberta Salvatore and Gloria Wyatt, of the clinical laboratory staff were sent to Wilmington, Delaware, to the Dupont factory and training school for one week of training in operation of the instrument.

Milita said, the hospital anticipates that this instrument will allow the evening shift, to not be required to have another medical technologist, due to the automation of the instrument, allowing the one medical technologist now on duty to perform other tests, freeing her from the chemistry procedures, the Dupont ACA will perform.

Another technologist is scheduled for school later next year, for trouble shooting and service training, said Milita.

Monroe named area superintendent

BELLE GLADE —Dr. John Monroe, who started his career 25 years ago in the Glades with the Palm Beach County School system, was appointed the new West Area Superintendent of Education, Wednesday night by the PBC School Board.

Dr. Monroe replaces Jack Redding, who asked to be placed back as principal of Pahokee High School.

Monroe, who has been principal of John I. Leonard High School of West Palm Beach since 1978, began his teaching career as a music teacher at Belle Glade High School in 1953.

He worked at Belle Glade High School until 1968 before transferring to Forest High School, where he taught music until 1966.

From 1966 to 1973, Monroe was the music specialist in the Central County Office and from 1973 until 1978 he was the North Central Area director of instructional services.

Monroe will assume his duties today, Sept. 3. School Supt. Thomas Mill, chose Monroe from a list of four candidates who applied for the position.

Mills said he thinks Monroe can make a contribution in the Glades area.

Monroe did both his undergraduate and graduate work at the University of Miami. Mrs. Doris Lane, former principal of Pahokee High School also has been appointed as director of secondary education. She replaces Kenneth Loveless, who is now a school superintendent in Texas.

Farm Bureau women plan meeting

An organizational meeting of the Western Palm Beach Farm Bureau's Women's Committee will be held at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 8 at the Farm Bureau office in Belle Glade.

The meeting is designed to show women in this area how they can better their community through educational programs that will inform the non-agricultural public of the farm story, through legislative support that will benefit the farmer, and through numerous other programs that will both educate and inform farmers, ranchers, and the general public.

Farm Bureau's State Women's Coordinator, Patsy Perkins, and District VIII's Women's Chairman, Sandy Brumley, will be at the meeting to explain the goals and projects the Farm Bureau Women are involved in. Two slide presentations, "Progress Against Breast Cancer," and "The Empty Plate Breakfast" will be shown.

All women interested in agriculture are invited to attend this meeting and become an active part of the Farm Bureau.

LOAN APPROVED FOR BELLE GLADE HEALTH CARE FACILITY

Glades commissioner Bill Bailey reported to county commission Aug. 25 that the Farmers Home Administration has approved a $1 million loan to the county at five percent interest, to assist in the construction of a permanent health care facility in Belle Glade.

The total center will cost $2.4 million with an out right allocation from the state for $400,000 and $1 million in county funds. The new center will replace run down trailer facilities that are now serving 35,000 Glades residents. Groundbreaking is expected by the end of this year, with completion targeted for December of 1982.

The location for the new building is just east of the county courthouse annex building in Belle Glade.

Teenage pregnancies

With teenage pregnancy continuously rising in the United States, and the chance of the new born having a major birth defect, agencies all across the nation are offering seminars and materials to teens in the hope of preventing health risks for pregnant teens and their babies.

Approximately one million teens give birth each year and two-thirds of those are unwanted. Some parents take the attitude "if it's not my teen, the problem doesn't affect me" and some take the attitude "if I ignore the problem it will soon go away."

The problem will not go away and the community leaders, health professionals, social workers, educators and everyday citizens must not turn their back on the problem but find ways to educate the nation's teenagers in such areas as pre-natal care, reproduction and birth control.

Locally, Mrs. Cathy Cottle, director of the Planned Parenthood Glades Center has instituted a program at the center that provides pre-natal care classes for pregnant teenagers.

In the Glades alone last year, approximately one-third of babies born at the two local hospitals were born to teens.

That accounts for approximately 200 to 250 teen pregnancies, and that figure does not include those who have their babies at home, in West Palm Beach or in Clewiston.

The Planned Parenthood pre-natal course seeks to provide valuable information to pregnant teens, their parents and friends, information that has been unavailable before because of economic status, the need to keep the matter confidential, peer pressure, etc. Cathy has tapped area resources, and a well-balanced, educational and fun nine-week course is now being offered at Planned Parenthood at Glades Central on Wednesday evenings for approximately one hour.

Although Cathy's announcement of the program has been met with mixed reception, it is hoped that once those who are opposed to it see the good it is doing, will encourage pregnant teens to take advantage of this free program.

The teens will find themselves among their peers and friends from the Pahokee, Belle Glade and South Bay areas.

Two area principals have accepted the program wholeheartedly and have granted permission for information to be disseminated on their campus. Some principals have not been as receptive.

As a local volunteer for Planned Parenthood, I see first hand the need for such a program and wholeheartedly support Planned Parenthood Glades Center's NEW PRE-NATAL CARE CLASS FOR PREGNANT TEENAGERS.

If you know of anyone who might be helped by the pre-natal course, suggest they stop by and see Cathy or Lavern for more information to enroll in the program.

Life is beautiful. Parenting by choice is even more beautiful...and a healthy new born is every parent's dream...

The City of Belle Glade asked the County Commission to support its plan for the construction of public fallout shelters in the levee around Lake Okechobee.

In its appeal to the Commission, the city pointed out that it is impossible to construct basement type shelters in the Glades because the water table is only about two feet below the surface.

The Pahokee City Council passed a resolution pledging themselves to take whatever steps necessary to construct a sewage system in Pahokee at the earliest possible date.

Priceless cargo

The most priceless cargo carried on Florida's highways is carried in those yellow school buses, ferrying youngsters to and from class.

"Stopping for a school bus may cause drivers to lose a little time, said Col. Eldridge Beach, director of the Florida Highway Patrol. "However, life is worth more than time. This rule is designed to protect the lives of youngsters when travelling to and from school."

School buses in Florida in 1980 were involved in 1,196 accidents. There were fatalities in 10 of the accidents and injuries in 345.

The Glades area experienced the first accident of the year Friday, Aug. 28, involving a child leaving a school bus (in Canal Point). Fortunately, the child was released from the hospital earlier this week.

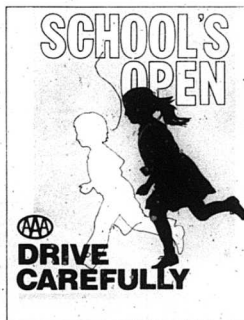

Florida's school buses have signal lights both front and rear to warn other drivers. Yellow flashing lights indicate slowing down and red flashing lights with the red arm extended from the bus is the signal for other vehicles to stop while the children load and unload.

When a school bus displays a stop signal loading or unloading, Florida law requires all drivers going in the same direction to stop. Traffic moving in the opposite direction must stop also unless the highway is divided with an unpaved space at least five feet wide or a physical barrier.

School buses are required to stop at railroad crossings and motorists should use caution while following a bus approaching crossings.

"Drivers should reduce speed when meeting or overtaking a school bus and be prepared to stop at any time," concluded Beach.

Please drive carefully

Traffic accident statistics during the first few weeks of the school year repeatedly show that this is an unsafe time for children.

One of the reasons, according to Richard J. Ochart, American Automobile Association's manager of traffic safety, is that many children returning to school have been sheltered during the school recess at traffic-free farms, campgrounds, and beach and lake resorts where vehicular traffic isn't a problem.

As a result, school-age children may forget traffic safety rules and dart out into the path of cars and trucks, a major cause of traffic deaths among children.

Not only do children need to be alert, this is also a time for motorists to renew their cautious driving practices in residential areas, near schools, and shopping centers. The kids are back...bless 'em!

No smoking from Brooke's lovely ears

My Brooke Shields cigarette poster arrived in the mail this week. The poster once caused a minor flap. Not in our office, you understand, but in the halls of government. It literally became a federal case.

The federal government's office of Health and Human Services at first wanted the poster and then rejected it. Seldom is it that Brooke is rejected these days.

Apparently, the rejection was a matter of taste. Someone decided they didn't like seeing the beautiful teenager with cigarettes plugged into her ears.

Never mind that designers clamor to have Brooke model their jeans. Or that shampoo people pay thousands for a brief film clip showing Brooke washing her hair with their product. Such is the lure of a rising and glamorous young star.

Apparently, the allure wasn't enough for Uncle Sam. A poster of a young teenager with cigarettes dangling from her ears wasn't exactly what he had in mind.

Funny thing was, the American Lung Association picked up the poster and has been handing them out like hotcakes since then.

The poster makes exactly the point that the Lung Association wanted to make: "Smoking spoils your looks."

If you would like your own, free, 17 X 22 inch, full-color poster of Brooke Shields with cigarettes stuck in her ears, write:

The American Lung Association
2701 N. Australian Ave.
West Palm Beach, FL 33407.

It was a tough photo assignment, the kind that hardened photographers learn to carry out dutifully.

I just made up my mind that I was going to have to do it. So I pulled out my wide angle lens and went on down to the football field to take pictures of the high school cheerleaders.

There were some poses I had in mind, so I brought along my old high school annual, circa 1965, to show them.

The poses were fine, but the cheerleaders thought the hairdos from the mid-1960s were hilarious. After they quit laughing and examining the photos like an archaeologist would a stegosaurus bone, we got on with the session.

I never did figure out what was so funny. I always liked those bouffant hairstyles. But that shows what I know about style. Mini skirts and hot pants were fine too.

I consoled myself that the really funny fashions were before my day. You may remember when teenagers sported pony tails and had poodles on their skirts. And sophisticated ladies wore something called a sack dress.

As Oscar Wilde once said, "Fashion is what one wears oneself. What is unfashionable is what other people wear."

tion of Palm Beach County, the Bank of Pahokee for the purpose of discussing the areas' need of a hospital facility and exploring the means of accomplishing this goal.

Mrs. Carolyn Militta, secretary to the present Hospital Administrator, Frank S. Steinberger, said previous celebrations in observance of the hospital's birthday have been held sporadically throughout the hospital's history.

Mrs. Militta, who was born at the first hospital, said several members of the staff felt "something" should be done in honor of the 45th birthday of the hospital and as a result, plans for the reception were put into motion.

On Sept. 4, 1936, Everglades Memorial Hospital, Inc., was issued a formal corporate charter by the State of Florida, as a corporation for profit.

On that same day, The Everglades News, the Glades weekly newspaper, published in Canal Point, carried a front page story and illustrated drawing of the proposed $30,000 facility for the Everglades.

The plans called for the erection of the hospital on Bacon Point Rd., in Pahokee. The plans also called for the structure to be two levels, and the sale of $17,000 in bonds so that a grant of $13,000 could be secured from the federal government to help with the cost of the building.

The officers of the corporation included Arthur Wells of Bean City as the president; Dr. Harry M. McIntosh of Pahokee was the vice-president; H.M. McIntosh, president of the Bank of Pahokee was the secretary-treasurer. Serving as board members were, S.J. Simmons, Jr., W.H. Vann, Brooks Bateman, J.W. Crookan, C.S. Moore, and Arthur Moore.

However that architect's conception of the hospital to be built on Bacon Point Rd., never became a reality. Instead the corporation leased the Lake Park Hotel, formerly located at 206 South Lake Ave., Pahokee, to be the site of the Everglades Memorial Hospital.

According to records maintained by the hospital, Mrs. Militta said the corporation changed its status in 1939 from a corporation for profit to a hospital district and created the "Western Palm Beach County Public Hospital District." This hospital district, assumed the operation and control of Everglades Memorial Hospital.

In 1949, the hospital district was divided and Everglades Memorial Hospital came under the jurisdiction of Northwestern Palm Beach County Public Hospital District, and began serving the communities of Pahokee and Canal Point. The southern part of the district, Belle Glade and South Bay would be served in Belle Glade.

During that same year, the hospital moved into a new location at 1749 East Main St.

The new hospital came as a result of a mandate from the citizens of Pahokee which was voiced in an election when the vote in favor of the hospital was 341 to seven against building it.

Everglades Memorial Hospital remained at that site until Sept. 12, 1965, Glades Day School purchased the building on East Main St.

The present hospital located at 200 South Barfield Highway, was built with federal and local tax district funds.

Open House was held for the 55 bed facility on Sept. 12, J.C. Simmonds, Jr., served as the hospital administrator and Mrs. Hilda Jensen, served as the Director of Nurses. Approximately 1,000 persons attended open house.

Two weeks later on Sept. 23, the new hospital opened for patients.

Twenty patients were transferred from the old hospital on a Monday afternoon.

In moving from the old location, ambulances from Wetherington Funeral Home in Pahokee and Taylor Funeral in Belle Glade were donated to the hospital to help move patients.

The first baby was born within hours after moving into the new facility. Mrs. Jack Woodard of Indian town gave birth to a baby girl, Elizabeth Ann.

By noon, there were 27 patients in the hospital, including four babies.

Although Everglades Memorial Hospital was now in its third location and 29 years old, the cost of hospital care was still comparatively low.

In 1946, the cost of staying in the hospital was $6 per day, and in 1965, $14 per day.

The cost of the nursery in 1946 was $4 per day and in 1965 the cost was $7 per day.

Since its humble beginnings in 1936, Everglades Memorial Hospital has continued to expand its services for the citizens of the Northwestern Palm Beach Hospital District.

The total hospital area is 38,000 square feet and approximately 170 physicians with courtesy rights at the hospital.

The Board of Trustees includes Stanley L. Hooks, E.L. Poore, Faith Sasser, Arthur Nagler and J.S. Atkins.

The trustees are appointed by the Governor and serve for a period of four years.

Department heads are Frank S. Steinberger, administrator; Don Anderson, assistant administrator; Margarita Glaz, controller; Woodrow Knisley, Environmental Services Manager; Doris Wilson, Dietary Supervisor; Richard Malone, director of nursing; Betty A. Wood, Anesthetist; M. Dale Militta, director of Laboratory Services; Ryan Culbert, Radiology and Nuclear Medicine Supervisor; Anne Harrington, medical record supervisor; William Weathers, Pharmacy; Mary Cohick, purchasing agent; and Dennis Delucia, Pahokee Ambulance director.

Information for this story was taken from old files of The Everglades News, The Glades Observer and hospital files.

DR. DAVID T. EVANS EVERGLADES PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

As a young man Jesus had seen His mother make bread. She would take a piece of fermented dough from the last baking and put it into the flour used for the next baking.

This fermented dough was leaven. The leaven begins to work on the fresh flour when mixed with other ingredients. The working power spreads until the whole batch is affected.

Jesus told the parable of the leaven. Matthew 13:33. "And He told them another parable. The kingdom of heaven is like leaven which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened."

Jesus is saying that the kingdom of heaven is a transforming power which leavens it. It affects the individual person and it affects society.

The kingdom of heaven on earth is the fellowship of believers in Christ. This group, which is ever expanding, influences more and more people.

The unbeliever who is drawn into the fellowship becomes a new creature. He no longer thinks and acts the same. He is changed, no, transformed.

Society has been changed so that the status of women, children and the unfortunate has been improved. Women no longer are considered chattels. The weak no longer are abandoned and the ill isolated.

The first concern over the blind and the sick was shown by the Christians. The poor were considered as nuisances by the Romans. Now they are cared for with genuine concern.

The second aspect of this parable is that the power of the kingdom of heaven is an unseen working force. Just as we don't see the seed opening to become a flower or a stalk of wheat grow, so Christ's work is done.

The leaven is inward and invisible. The real growth of the church is really shown only by the glow on people's faces, the beauty on people's faces. The beauty of the famous Mona Lisa painting is the slight smile indicating an inward warmth.

The action of the leaven also is contagious. It is said that "one loving heart sets another on fire." Jesus met two people and then there were ten more. He lavished them with His love and His spirit, and they developed so they did the same to one another.

The love of one touches another. Quietly and silently it spreads and the whole community feels the love of Christ.

Jesus' act of love on the cross was the climax of His life. His whole life was really one continuous event of love.

Let us be Christ's silent working force through the love we have received from Him. We don't need to be loud but we are changing people because we have been changed.

U-Save prepares for grand re-opening

U-Save Supermarkets will celebrate the grand reopening of the newly expanded and remodeled U-Save Supermarket at 524 S. E. Ave. E, beginning Thursday, Sept. 3.

Charles Butler is the manager of the Belle Glade store.

The remodeled and expanded U-Save Supermarket is now one of the most modern businesses in the downtown Belle Glade area.

Officials stated that the tremendous acceptance in this area of U-Save's everyday low price program and the ever growing needs of the community are the prime reasons for the expansion and modernization program.

U-Save Supermarkets were born 14 years ago to meet the public reaction against high food prices, say company officials.

The first U-Save Wholesale Supermarket was in Fort Myers, when the B and B Supermarket on Anderson Avenue converted to a U-Save Wholesale Supermarket.

The chain has since grown to 21 giant supermarkets with others in the planning stage.

Eugene Keel, store supervisor for this area, said the acceptance of the U-Save "everyday low price concept" has been the determining factor in the expansion program now being undertaken in the Belle Glade area.

Keel said he wishes to thank the many thousands of customers for their patience during the remodeling and assures everyone that U-Save is now the proper sized store packed with modern conveniences.

THE NEW LOOK at the local U-Save Store is on the outside as well as inside, as can be seen by this photo. U-Save invites everyone to come and check out the Grand Opening prices that will be ongoing for the next few weeks.

U-Save's goal is low prices

A reflection of the tremendous wave of public reaction against high food prices was the prime reason for the birth of U-Save Supermarkets.

All U-Save Supermarkets orient their prices to the housewife, who across the nation have been clamoring against stamps, gimmicks, games, limits and other come-ons that have resulted in higher food prices, a company spokesman said.

The management of U-Save says that the entire concept of the U-Save Supermarket is what supermarkets were originally designed to do: give the lowest possible prices on the highest quality and largest variety of products through increased business volume and low mark-up.

In addition to U-Save's policy against stamps and games, other overhead costs are pared whenever possible without harming service.

Checkout service is speeded up with the use of the most modern equipment to more efficiently handle the volume of store traffic necessary to provide this "everyday price" structure.

U-Save stores carry over 10,000 items: national brands, produce, U.S. choice beef, housewares and health and beauty aids with a stated price on every item of from one to 15 cents below that of stamp giving stores, U-Save spokesmen say.

With the average food budget this will result in savings of from $5 to $10 per week per household.

U-Save does not price items for weekend specials, but maintains the low everyday price line every day of the week, maintaining that shoppers appreciate not having to shop from store to store for specials but are able to shop for all their grocery and household needs any day of the week at one of 20 convenient locations.

The trend away from the reasons for shopping one certain store over another, previously given by the homemaker, has changed markedly in the past few years — where "convenience and variety" ranked above price in the past, "price" has now become the predominant factor.

The concept of everyday prices plus the variety of even the largest supermarket and convenient locations make U-Save Supermarkets the polltakers and homemakers say meet the most pressing need in lowering food costs, say company spokesmen.

The original grocery store was established 68 years ago in Avon Park, Fort Myers, five, and one each in Punta Gorda, Brandon, Okeechobee, Belle Glade, Clewiston, and LaBelle.

The founder of U-Save Supermarkets, C. J. Bever Sr., moved to Florida in 1923. Together with his father, he first entered the retail food business in 1923 in Avon Park.

Bever's policy of maintaining low operating overhead and passing savings along to his customers made the grocery chain's early growth possible.

Another of his attributes is the continual modernization of equipment and handling processes. Bever's principles are continued in today's management in the new, wholesale supermarket concept.

From the very beginning of the company's history, Charles Conway Bever has been the driving force behind the com-

JOHN JOHNSON, Market Manager for U-Save is a relatively new member of the U-Save staff, while Jo Faulk, Produce Manager, has been working at the local store for over seven years.

Under his management, many personnel features, including employee insurance programs, pension plans, and incentive promotions have been placed into effect.

Muscles against MD at GCI

By JIM JONES

They came from all over South Florida: massively muscled men, sinewy women, prison inmates, civilians.

They gathered at Glades Correctional Institute Sunday, Aug. 30, competing for title of Mr. Florida Prison Ironman, Ms. Golden Glades, or Mr. Golden Glades.

Appreciative fans turned out to watch the men and women flex their gleaming, oiled muscles under the steaming tropical sun.

The occasion was 1981 AAU "Muscles Against Muscular Dystrophy" competition.

The Glades Correctional Institute Jaycees and the Muscular Dystrophy Association presented the four-hour long program in cooperation with GCI administrators and area merchants.

Judges talked the contestants through their poses: "Let me have a front lat shot. Now a side chest shot. Okay, a side torso. Relax. If you'll face the rear of the stage, let's have a rear lat spread."

And how did the fans respond? Some of the women in the audience were heard to say:

"He's got it...awe shucks."

"He even had muscles in his elbows. I ain't never seen nothing like that."

"I'll take numbers six, seven, eight, nine, and 10."

Alan Martines, GCI Jaycee president and project chairman, said the idea for the competition came to him about one year ago.

About March he started writing letters to the American Amateur Athletic Union, the American Federation of Body Builders, the Muscular Dystrophy Association, and other organizations. "They all thought it was a fabulous idea," Martines said.

"At the end of April, we had a meeting with the superintendent (R.V. Turner) and the representatives of the organizations involved and we knew we could do it," he said.

The amount of money raised by the GCI Jaycees for the Muscular Dystrophy Association was not immediately known, but Martines said the Jaycees had spent about $1,500 of their own money to stage the event.

Martines lavished praise on Superintendent Turner, Food Service Director Timothy Story (the Jaycee sponsor), GCI inmates, and local merchants who helped make the contest possible.

In the Mr. Florida Prison Ironman competition, GCI's Ken Henley walked away with virtually every honor. Henley not only won the event, but was named "most muscular" and "best poser" as well.

Although inmates from Indian River Correctional Institution also took part in the competition, GCI inmates took all top five trophies.

Lee Jackson was second, Jerry McCloud third, Sammie Foster fourth, and Thomas Gilbert fifth.

Others taking part included Clarence Johnson, Eddie Byrd, Robert Boykins, Coy Jones, Jessie Chester, and Charles Arnold—all of GCI, and Perry Moss, Tony Goodman, Troy Zube, Joe Martin, and Parnell Newberry—all of Indian River Correctional Institution.

In the Ms. Golden Glades competition, Joanne Tremonte took first place and won the medal for "best muscle tone" and for "most symmetrical."

Christine Gaskle was second, Linda Mullins third, and Wendy Rousseau fourth.

In the Mr. Golden Glades contest, 15 civilian competitors from South Florida vied for top honors.

Keith Brooks of Indian Rocks was first and won the best poser and most muscular medals also.

Second was Ricky Valente of Fort Lauderdale, third was Joe Yurkin of Boca Raton, fourth was Henry Brown of Pompano Beach, and fifth was Lewis Franklin of West Palm Beach.

Also competing were Jeff Howe, Robert Rousseau, Herb Subido, Joe Travi, Daylin Ward, Frankie Higgins, Eddie Peoples, Manny Odozi, Christian Siler, and Kim Werner.

Guest posers taking part were Georgia Fudge, 36, who has won the Ms. Body Beautiful U.S.A., Ms. Southern U.S.A., and Ms. Olympus titles; Paulette Bethel, 32, a runner-up in the 1981 Florida Mixed Pair; and Louis LaBarbera, Greater Mr. Florida. Mike BonDurant served as master of ceremonies.

Businesses and organizations helping to make the event possible were Everglades Farm Service, Ted's Sheds, Wedgworth, Inc., Redi Deal Record Shop, Homer's Record Shop, Pat's Restaurant, Charlie Vickers Grocery, Glades Fitness Center, Royal Palm Beach Jaycees, Belle Glade Armory, All Pro Sporting Goods, WSWN Radio, White's T.V., Wellington Palm Beach Polo Club, WPEC-TV, Key Gym, Hollywood Spa and Health Club, Spa News, Pickwick Distribution Division, and Weider Health and Fitness.

KEITH BROOKS (center) won the Mr. Golden Glades competition. Second was Ricky Valente (left) and third was Joe Yurkin (right).

JUDGES liked Joanne Tremonte best in the Ms. Golden Glades contest.

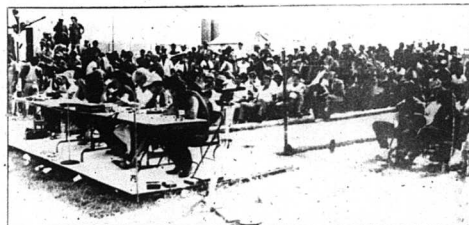

PAULETTE BETHEL displays her strength. She was a guest poser in the contest.

CHRISTIAN SILER (left) and Kim Werner demonstrate their "most muscular" pose in the Mr. Golden Glades Contest. Neither finished in the top five.

GCI inmates swept the top five spots in the Mr. Florida Prison Ironman Contest. Ken Henley, second from right, was judged the class of the field.

A LARGE PORTION of the crowd on hand for the body building contest Sunday were GCI inmates.

The nine-week course will be held four times a year during after-school hours and is open to pregnant teens, their partners and friends. The sessions are one hour and are held from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Cottle said the class will be on-going. "When I say it's an ongoing program, I mean that even if an expectant mother doesn't enroll in the first class, she can start in a later class and pick up on the earlier one she missed later in the course."

Course topics will include natural childbirth, nutrition, exercise, breast feeding, parenting skills, reproduction, and birth control.

The material that will

Materials to be used in the program are made possible by a grant from U.S. Sugar Corporation. A local merchant will donate refreshments; and free t-shirts and certificates of participation will be given to those students who complete the course.

Security conference held at Holiday Inn

BELLE GLADE—Speaking to a packed room of local agricultural businessmen interested in the security of their properties, Detective Gene Williams of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department said "trespassing is the number one problem that the local growers have."

He told the group that better security of their farms through the use of posted signs and a better barrier system will help discourage the amateur trespasser and thief from coming onto the owners' property to do damage or to steal.

The seminar, attended by over 50 growers from around the lake, was sponsored by the sheriff's departments in Palm Beach, Hendry and the Florida Sugar Cane League.

The seminar provided many helpful suggestions to the growers.

"Every five seconds an agricultural crime occurs," said Wayne Byrd, another speaker from the Florida Farm Bureau. "There are two factors that must be present for a crime to occur," he stated, "you must have a thief and you must have an outlet for the stolen goods."

Byrd, who coordinates the property identification program for the Farm Bureau, said stolen property can not be fenced if it is well identified.

He noted that with tractors and other farm equipment it is hard to identify the owner because farm equipment is not required to have a tag or title.

The National Property Identification System, recommended by sheriffs departments and sponsored by the Florida Farm Bureau, is one of the best preventive methods for theft and is an excellent method to insure return of stolen goods to the proper owner.

Sgt. Steve Landrum, the industrial security officer at the Palm Beach County sheriff's office spoke to the group on lock security. He demonstrated the different methods and equipment a criminal will use to break and enter buildings.

Landrum stressed that if a grower makes it difficult for a would-be thief to gain access to their goods, the thief will usually go somewhere else.

Manley to speak at meeting

BELLE GLADE—With the influx of Cuban-Haitian entrants to the West county area; South Bay, Pahokee and Belle Glade, the need for child care services for the individuals continue to increase. The Hispanic Human Resources Council is interested in establishing day care services for children of needy families in the Glades area, according to Luciano Martinez, Executive Director of the program.

In order to receive input from community individuals and agencies, and assess the need and feasibility of such a project, representatives of the Hispanic Human Resources Council will be present at the Community Service meeting, at 12:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 9 at the Glades Office Building, Bryant Auditorium.

At that time, representatives will listen to the concerns and comments of area residents and discuss the possibility of implementing a project similar to the one in West Palm Beach for Cuban and Haitian children.

The Glades for the past 18 years, directs the county program in the Glades area and has been employed with the Palm Beach County ETA program since August 1977.

He will talk on the subject, "Future Services of ETA for Fiscal Year 1982."

The program is open to the public. For additional information, please contact PBC Social Services at 996-1630, or Hispanic Human Resources at 305-659-0977, or ETA office at 996-2330.

Anton Manley, an E&T Center Director for Palm Beach County Employment and Training Program, will speak at the meeting also.
